

Wednesday, January 8, 2014

Ohio gov asks parents to deliver drug-free message

By Ann Sanner

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's governor wants parents and other adults to talk to children about the dangers of abusing drugs and other substances, as the state works to combat problems with prescription pain pills and heroin.

Article continued here: <http://www.sfgate.com/news/article/Ohio-gov-asks-parents-to-deliver-drug-free-message-5122034.php>

Dayton Daily News

Wednesday, January 8, 2014

Kasich launches program to prevent teen drug abuse

By Ken McCall

WEST CARROLLTON — Gov. John Kasich and a host of state and local officials visited West Carrollton Middle School on Wednesday to kick off a multi-pronged campaign to prevent drug abuse among Ohio's young people.

Article continued here: <http://www.daytondailynews.com/news/news/local/kasich-launches-program-to-prevent-teen-drug-abuse/ncghB/>

Thursday, January 9, 2014

Governor unveils statewide drug intervention plan at Finneytown High School

By Jennie Key

It's time for parents, teachers, and other adults to talk to teens honestly about heroin and prescription drug abuse, Ohio Gov. John Kasich told an audience assembled at Finneytown High School. He launched a new drug abuse intervention program there Jan. 8 to give them the tools to have those conversations.

Article continued here:

http://news.cincinnati.com/article/20140109/NEWS01/301090081/Governor-unveils-statewide-drug-intervention-plan-Finneytown-High-School?gcheck=1&nclick_check=1

Thursday, January 9, 2014

Kasich aims to start conversations to fight drug abuse

By Joe Vardon and Alan Johnson

WEST CARROLLTON, Ohio — Sam Buehler acknowledged that he doesn't look like someone who was addicted to drugs, but he was.

Article continued here:

http://www.dispatch.com/content/stories/local/2014/01/08/Kasich_drugs.html

Wednesday, January 8, 2014

New drug abuse prevention initiative kicks off in Ohio

Post by FOX19 Digital Media Staff

CINCINNATI, OH (FOX19) - A new drug abuse prevention initiative kicked off in Ohio on Wednesday, working to reduce the likelihood of youth drug use before it even starts.

Article continued here: <http://www.fox19.com/story/24400111/start-talking-campaign-aims-to-lower-drug-usage-in-ohio>

###